

Privacy Notice

Introduction

Your personal data is data which by itself, or with other data available to us, can be used to identify you. Banco Santander International SA head-quartered in Switzerland and any of its branches or representation offices (which also uses the brand name "Santander Private Banking", together "we", "us" and "our"), is the data controller. This Privacy Notice (hereinafter this "statement") sets out how we will use your personal data.

This statement relates to the use of personal data obtained to run our business and provide you with products and services. It covers the processing of personal data whether or not you become a customer and includes any processing of personal data before you apply for a product or service.

The types of personal data we might collect and use

We will collect most of the data during the account application process, but we might complete your data with external sources when required to accomplish with our legal obligations.

The types of personal data will depend on the services we will provide to you and could include:

- Full name and personal details, including contact information (e.g. home and business address and address history, email address, home, business and mobile phone numbers);
- Date of birth and/or age;
- Financial details (e.g. salary and details of other income, and details of accounts held with other providers);
- Records of products and services you have obtained or applied for;
- When using some services like the e-banking or mobile applications, the relevant technology used to access or manage them, (e.g. IP address or internet browser);
- Public available sources like fraud prevention agencies, court records of debt judgments and bankruptcies ;
- Information about your family members or social circumstances if relevant to the product or service;
- Education and employment details/employment status if relevant to the product or service;
- Personal data about other named applicants; and
- Contact details and information about your business.

Monitoring of communications

Subject to applicable laws, we will monitor and record your calls, emails, e-banking and other communications relating to your dealings with us. We will do this for regulatory compliance, self-regulatory practices, crime prevention and detection, to protect the security of our communications systems and procedures and for quality control or in case we need a record of what has been said. We may also monitor activities on your account where necessary for these reasons, and this is justified by our legitimate interests or our legal obligations.

Using your personal data

We will process your personal data:

- As necessary to perform our contract with you for the relevant account, product or service:
 - To take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract;
 - To decide whether to enter into a contract;
 - To manage and perform that contract;
 - To keep your records updated;
 - To trace your whereabouts to contact you about your account; and
 - When you request that we disclose your personal data to other people or organizations such as a company handling a claim on your behalf, or otherwise agree to disclosures.

- As necessary for our own legitimate interests or those of other persons and organizations, such examples include but are not limited to:
 - For good governance, accounting, managing and auditing our business operations;
 - To monitor emails, calls, other communications, and activities on your account; and
 - To send you marketing communications about our products and services.
- As necessary to comply with a legal obligation:
 - For compliance with legal and regulatory requirements and related disclosures;
 - When you exercise rights under data protection law and make requests;
 - For establishment and defense of legal rights;
 - For activities relating to the prevention, detection and investigation of crime; and
 - To verify your identity, make credit, fraud prevention and anti-money laundering checks.

Sharing of your personal data

Subject to applicable data protection law we may share your personal data with:

- Banco Santander S.A., Santander group companies and other banking entities in order to provide you with certain services within the contractual banking relationship, under your request;
- Sub-contractors and other persons who help us provide our products and services;
- Companies and other persons providing services to us;
- Our legal and other professional advisors, including our auditors;
- Fraud prevention agencies, and debt collection agencies when we open your account and periodically during your account or service management;
- Government bodies and agencies;
- Courts, to comply with legal requirements, and for the administration of justice;
- Other parties connected with your account e.g. directors, shareholders, beneficial owners or any named official who will see your transactions with your authorization;
- Other parties when we might restructure or sell our business or its assets or have a merger or re-organization;
- Payment systems (e.g. American Express, Cornercard, Capitol, Visa or MasterCard) if we issue cards linked to your account, who may transfer your personal data to others as necessary to operate your account and for regulatory purposes, to process transactions, resolve disputes and for statistical purposes, including sending your personal data overseas; and
- Anyone else where we you have given your authorization or as required by law.

International Transfers

Your personal data may be transferred outside Switzerland and the European Economic Area while performing operations ordered by you, as for example wire and securities transfers..

International Corridors

Where you may have international business needs and only when having your explicit authorization, we will share information related to your company, products and accounts, including transactional information, with Banco Santander S.A., Santander group companies and other partner banks that may be based in other countries, to better support the international operations of your company and decide whether to offer your company other products and services. For more information on whom those other Santander group companies or other partner banks are, you can contact your personal banker.

Data anonymization and aggregation

Your personal data may be converted into statistical or aggregated data which cannot be used to identify you, although it can be used to produce statistical reports.

Identity verification and fraud prevention checks

The personal data we've collected from you at the account application or at any stage might be shared with fraud prevention agencies that will use it to prevent fraud and money-laundering and to verify your identity. We may also search and use our internal records for these purposes. We may also hold all the personal information you give to us (i.e. name, address, date of birth, nationality) to undertake periodic due diligence checks which banks are required to undertake to comply with legislation and regulation.

The personal data we have collected from you at the account application or at any stage might be shared with other financial institutions in order to conduct an investigation pertaining to your finance and business conduct.

Criteria used to determine retention periods (whether or not you become a customer)

The following criteria are used to determine data retention periods for your personal data:

- Retention in case of queries. We will retain your personal data as long as necessary to deal with your queries (e.g. if your application is unsuccessful); and
- Retention in accordance with legal and regulatory requirements. We will retain your personal data after your account, service or relationship has been closed or has otherwise come to an end based on our legal and regulatory requirements. In the majority of cases this will be for ten years from the end of your relationship with the Bank.

Your rights under applicable data protection law

Your rights are as follows (noting that some of these rights apply only under certain circumstances):

- The right to have your personal data corrected if it is inaccurate and to have incomplete personal data completed ("right to rectification");
- The right to object to processing of your personal data;
- The right to restrict processing of your personal data;
- The right to have your personal data erased (the "right to be forgotten");
- The right to request access to your personal data and information about how we process it ("right of access by the data subject");
- The right to move, copy or transfer your personal data ("right to data portability").
- For more details on all the above rights you can contact our Data Protection Officer (DPO) at privacy@bpe-gruposantander.com, or at:

Data Protection Officer
Banco Santander International SA
Case postale 1256
1211 Geneva
Switzerland